Monbourquette Held In Connection With Woodstock Robberies

Believe He and Companion Were Also Involved in Robbery in Montclair, N. J.—Many Priceless Treasures Recovered By Police Authorities.

When Charles Monbourquette, 37-year-old, was arrested at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Joseph Whitely, at Montclair, N. J., last Wednesday he became tangled up in the strong arm of the law and as a result of that happening he is now in the Ulster county jail on a charge of having robbed several Woodstock residents of valuable books, rare family heirlooms and priceless treasures. His alleged accomplice is being held in New Jersey on a charge of assault and battery and for his alleged part in the stick-up at the Montclair residence of Monbourquette's sister. His bail has been set at $25,000 by the New Jersey authorities.

Monbourquette will be arraigned later today on a burglary charge before a Woodstock justice.

Police claim Monbourquette, who is 37 years old, evidently is a cultured man and a connoisseur of art for the Woodstock thievery consisted of many priceless articles including Persian rugs, family heirlooms, rare first editions of Gibbons, De Maussant, Fielding and Johnson. Much of the loot has been recovered by the authorities although there undoubtedly is still much which has not been accounted for. Accompanied by New Jersey, New York city police, State Troopers and a representative from the Ulster county sheriff's office a tour of the book stores of New York and Brooklyn on Friday and Saturday revealed much of the stuff. Monbourquette accompanied the officers on their rounds and they say pointed out stores where many of the books had been sold. Much of the loot had been disposed of and sent to other dealers so there is still much to be located. The value of the loot is not known but so far goods valued at perhaps $20,000 have been recovered.

The first word of the matter came to Ulster county last Wednesday night when the New Jersey police sent out a message asking the local authorities to keep a look-out for Monbourquette, who it was known has been living in Woodstock. At that time it was not known that any of the Woodstock places had been looted. The local officers were asked to pick up Monbourquette for the New Jersey job.

Police Begin Hunt.

Wednesday night Troopers Reilly, Soules and Deputy Sheriff Clayton Vredenburg went to Woodstock looking for the man sought by the New Jersey police. At that time they were concerned in locating him for the Jersey police for an alleged stick-up. The officers remained about Woodstock until midnight but failed to get any trace of the wanted man. Thursday they returned to Woodstock to continue the search on the theory that Monbourquette would possibly return to Woodstock. While in Woodstock the officers were joined by Sergeant Hopkins and Trooper Seamon, who had been informed that Monbourquette had confessed to having burglarized certain Woodstock places. At that time he mentioned the Whitney and the Hoffman places.

An investigation was immediately made at those places and it was found both had been burglarized. The officers remained in Woodstock until 9 o'clock Thursday evening making certain investigations. At the time it was not known what had been taken from the places.

Leaving Woodstock Sergeant Hopkins, Trooper Reilly and Deputy Sheriff Vredenburg drove to Montclair, N. J., where they arrived at 3 o'clock Friday morning. There they were joined by Chief of Police Reilly, Capt. Claren and Detective Mulligan of the Montclair police. The three Montclair officers were the ones who had caught Monbourquette's alleged accomplice, Leslie Hutchins, 21, of 225 West Fourth street, New York, at the time the home of Monbourquette's sister was broken into on Wednesday. At that time Hutchins was arrested but a second man escaped.

On arrival of the local officers Hutchins was questioned in relation to the Woodstock jobs at police headquarters in Montclair and later Hutchins accompanied the New Jersey and the New York officers to New York city. There accompanied by Detective McFarland, of the New York city police, Hutchins went to places where some of the loot had been disposed of. Much of the stuff, however, was not located and the officers remained in New York city Friday night and continued working on the case.

Detective Francis A. O'Neill of the New York city police was assigned to locate Monbourquette. He had been given certain information by Hutchins as to where the wanted man would be located. However his search was a bad one. He gave the address of Monbourquette as 69 West Fourth street, while in fact the address was 69 West Fourth street. This gave Monbourquette time to locate his former apartment.

Had Been in Prison.

Monbourquette it was learned had served three years in an Ohio prison under the name of Charles Allen. He was arrested in 1925 at Springfield, Ohio, for the same kind of a job as he was being sought for. At that time a sentence of from three to 15 years was imposed according to records on a burglary charge. It was also learned that he was a clerk.

Claim 1,500 School Teachers In New York City Mental Cases

Chief Medical Examiner Dr. Emil Altman Claims 1,500 of 36,000 School Teachers in New York City Are Mentally Unbalanced, and Many Hopelessly Insane—Illustrates With Cases Brought to His Attention.

New York, March 26 (AP)—The startling allegation that more than 1,500 of New York city's 36,000 school teachers are mentally unbalanced and many hopelessly insane, was made today in the World-Telegram by Dr. Emil Altman, chief medical examiner of the New York city public school system.

Dr. Altman was quoted by the World-Telegram as saying that political influence, negligence of supervisors, principals, district superintendents and higher officials combined with the teachers' retirement board to keep in service or restore to payrolls teachers with maniacal tendencies.

In one case, said by the newspaper to have been taken from Dr. Altman's files, a woman teacher shoved a chair leg into a boy's eye and twisted the chair, in order, she said, "to attract attention of the class from myself."

The retirement board, Dr. Altman was quoted as saying, returned many teachers to service due to a policy of avoiding payment of pensions.

Political pressure in the case of another teacher, Dr. Altman, stated who suffered from "a manic depressive psychosis," caused him to call in Dr. George H. Kirby, director of the State Psychiatric Institute, and the late Dr. Floyd C. Haviland, superintendent of the Manhattan State Hospital.

Their findings coincided with that of Dr. Altman, he said, but the retirement board rejected that as "simple restlessness" instead of medical symptoms.

The figure of 1,500, Dr. Altman said, was given recently by Louis Marks, chairman of the board of examiners of the school system. This figure "is extremely conservative," he was quoted as saying.

"Their friends say to us," the paper quotes Dr. Altman, "they need something to occupy them. That's true, but let them practice on gardening or house decorating, not on children."

"We recommend them for disability retirement. That costs the retirement board money. Pretty soon, it says, the teachers are cured and send them back."

A result of this, the doctor continues, is that numbers of "deranged teachers" come to New York after losing jobs in other states. "We have drained the country of crackpots, you might say," he is quoted.

CWA workers are at present tabulating Dr. Altman's files to determine if there is such a thing as occupational disease among teachers. Results so far indicate the World-Telegram states, that mental and nervous disorders are most frequent, with dementia praecox leading.

Law Authors Will Fight for Stock Bill

Measure to Regulate Stock Exchange Practices Will Be Pushed Through Both Houses if Authors Can Overcome Critics.

Washington, March 26 (AP)—The authors of the much rewritten Fletcher-Rayburn stock market control bill are determined to try to push the bill through both house and senate in the next few days without making any further changes in spite of criticism of the measure.

Richard Whitney, president of the New York Stock Exchange, one of the most outspoken critics, today had in preparation a long list of amendments he intends to present to the senate banking committee.

Chairman Fletcher said he would hear Whitney's suggestions. The co-author of the market regulation bill feels strongly, however, that it has been sufficiently revised and should be reported by the committee in somewhat its present form.

The hearing of Whitney either today or tomorrow will open open committee consideration of the bill.

The most recent critic of the Fletcher-Rayburn measure is the specialists committee of the New York exchange.

Declaring the bill would mean the practical elimination of 321 specialists now operating, it asked the house interstate commerce committee to observe their services, from the exchange floor before acting.

Elimination of the specialists, they contended, would not only throw several thousand persons out of employment but would impair the assets of 20,000 investors, who, in practice, "make the market."

The specialists committee labeled these men as "an indispensable factor in assuring the liquidity of investments, and, in turn, the liquidity of commercial banks and other financial institutions throughout the country."

The present bill would not ban specialists, but would limit their activities sharply.

Haitian President Visits Roosevelt

New York, March 26 (AP)—To the booming of cannon and with much official fanfare, President Steinhilber of Haiti arrived today to pay a neighborly visit to President Roosevelt.

As the liner Haiti passed Governor's Island, a 21-kiss salute was accorded President Vincent. Representatives of the United States and Haitian governments were aboard. "I have come," President Vincent said in a statement, "to confer amicably and loyally with your great president on the subject notably of the diverse questions which are involved in the military withdrawal from the territory of the republic of Haiti."

The United States and Haitian governments recently agreed to the complete occupation of the marines.

High Seas Murder Case On Today in New York

Son of Former Jean Nash Stands Trial for Fatal Stabbing of DMI Seaman on Ship on Atlantic—Pleads Not Guilty.

New York, March 26 (AP)—The first trial for murder on the high seas in the southern district of New York since 1928 began today before Federal Judge Robert A. Inch, where Andrew Donaldson Kirwan, 23-year-old son of the former Jean Nash, is accused.

Kirwan's mother, now Mme. Paul DuBonnet of Paris, known as the best dressed woman in Europe, took a seat at counsel's table. She wore a black straw beret, trimmed in white, and sable coat. With her was her mother, Mrs. Emma Donaldson, with whom Kirwan lived.

Kirwan is charged in a federal indictment, alleging first degree murder, with having fatally stabbed William Sessions, of Seattle, Wash., during an argument over religion on the liner President Garfield February 10 last. Sessions died a few days later in a Staten Island hospital, and the case came under federal jurisdiction because Sessions suffered the fatal wound on the high seas.

John P. Kirwan, paternal grandfather of the youth on trial, joined Mme. DuBonnet at the counsel table during a recess that preceded the calling of the jury. M. DuBonnet sat on the other side of her.

Kirwan was brought in by a deputy.

"Andrew Donaldson Kirwan, step forward," ordered the clerk.

Kirwan stepped up. "You stand accused of murder on the high seas," the clerk began rapidly, reading through the entire charge.

"How do you plead?" asked the clerk.

His attorney objected that his plea was already made. The court ordered the new plea.

Kirwan's nostrils dilated. His lips tightened.

"Not guilty," he said.

Mrs. Bessie Worms Injured As Two Cars Collide

Mrs. Bessie Worms of Grand View avenue was injured about the head when the taxi in which she was riding was in collision with a Dodge car driven by Kenneth Rignall of 119 North Fairview avenue. The taxi was driven by Fred Tierney of 23 O'Neil street. The two cars collided Saturday night at Lucas and Washington avenues. Mrs. Worms was removed to the Kingston Hospital in the taxi following the collision.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, March 26 (AP)—The position of the treasury March 25 was: Receipts, $22,468,487.25; expenditures, $14,021,222.05; balance, $8,447,265.20. Customs receipts for the month, $19,418,455.92. Receipts for the fiscal year since July 1 were $2,274,508,412.42; expenditures, $4,684,872,434.41, including $2,710,464,863.93 of emergency expenditures, excess of expenditures, $2,416,364,920.99; gold assets, $7,556,804,911.25.

"Barred Son" Writes Father

North Bay, Ont., March 26 (AP)—Robert Nicol, who in August, 1932, buried as his son, Charles, the body of a man killed by a railroad train at Verdun, Que., received a letter from Charles today. The son, Charles, alive and well, wrote it from the government road camp at Petawawa where he is employed. No one knows who it is that is buried in Terrace Lawn cemetery under the headstone marked "Charles Nicol."

Benedictine Ball to Be "Best Ever," Say Those Having Charge

Arrangements of Various Committees Nearing Completion as Date for Annual Affairs Draw Near—First Post Lenten Social Affair.

A week from tonight the post Lenten social program will be inaugurated by the 30th annual Benedictine Ball at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium, the event being the first to be run in the new ballroom since its transformation from a state armory into a center of recreation.

The program arranged by the various committees under the direction of Mrs. Edward B. Loughran, general chairman, promises that the ball will surpass anything ever attempted by the Ladies' Auxiliary for the benefit of the hospital, and expectations are that the crowd will outnumber any that ever patronized the Easter Monday balls of bygone years.

Committees working for the success of the ball include Mrs. James Higley, decorations; Mrs. Walter L. Fales and Mrs. Frank Egan, entertainment; Miss Mary Campbell, tickets; Miss Theresa Brophy, lemonade; Mrs. Margaret Pendill and Mrs. William Powers, flowers; Mrs. Patrick Lloyd and Mrs. Coughlin, supper; Charles Mullen and Nicholas D. J. Murphy, floor committee.

At New Auditorium

That the new auditorium, beautiful in itself, will be prettier than ever in its drappings of red, white and blue planned by Mrs. Higley, is assured by those who have seen this talented lady at work for the past month preparing novelties in crepe paper that do justice to her artistry. A shower of stars will feature the decorative scheme and should be one of the most attractive things ever seen in the history of the old armory which has been the scene of many social events.

Mrs. Walter Fales and Mrs. Frank Egan are being complimented every day on the program they have announced for entertainment, featuring Miss Helen Mae of Kingston, featured soprano soloist at WGY and WEAF, and the Ernest Williams School of Music Band that will render a delightful list of selections as published in The Freeman last Friday. A third entertainment feature will be announced later.

Miss Mary Campbell, in charge of tickets, reports a heavy sale to date, indicating financial success for the affair. Miss Theresa Brophy, whose lemonade booth is one of the attractive things at the ball each year, prettily decorated by Miss Brophy herself, has something entirely new for the big event, and Mrs. Margaret Pendill and Mrs. William Powers, in charge of the flower girls, are confident that their end of the project will net the hospital a nice amount.

Mrs. Patrick Lloyd and Mrs. Coughlin have engaged a corps of ladies to take care of the refreshment concession that is one of the well patronized booths each year. Messrs. Mullen and Murphy, with their band of ughers, have arranged the seating plan in a way to take care of the greatest number of people, although those who arrive late should entertain little hope of getting a place.

Two augmented dance orchestras will provide music for dancing, those of John Erne and Paul Zucca. Healthy competition between the two popular bands is expected to result in splendid music for the dancers.

PRODUCERS' MARKETING ASSOCIATION FORMED HERE

The producers of fruits and vegetables in the vicinity of Kingston met at the court house Saturday evening and organized the Ulster County Producers' Marketing Association. The officers elected are as follows: President Leslie Herring of Ulster Park; vice-president, Milton Walker of Kingston; treasurer, John McCreery, Kingston; secretary, Albert Kurdt. Plans are being made to enroll all fruit and vegetable producers as members. A large county-wide meeting is being planned for in April.

Three Cars Collided

Early Saturday evening three automobiles were in collision at Ten Broeck avenue and Downs street. No one was injured and none of the cars were badly damaged, according to the police court. The cars involved in the mixup were those of Clarence Luedtke of 14 Van Gaasbuck street, Clarence Plank of 122 Downs street and Angelo Qualitieri of East Kingston.

1933 FARM INCOMES INCREASED 55 PER CENT.

Washington, March 26 (AP)—The agricultural adjustment administration reported today that 1933 farm income was $1,158,000,000 higher than the previous year. This is an increase of 55 per cent.

Chester C. Davis, farm administrator, in a report to Secretary Wallace covering the period from last May to February, 1934, asserted that including rental and benefit payments, farm income last year reached $2,619,000,000. Greater improvement in this year, he said, "Part of this recovery was undoubtedly due to the adjustment program getting under way," he said.

"With livestock and livestock products, the production of which for market covers a longer period, it is not possible to make adjustments so rapidly."

It should be added that the fall results of a number of important projects launched in 1933 have not been felt. It is expected they will become increasingly evident in 1934.

Davis indicated that $9,000,000 more eventually would be withdrawn from production through the corn, wheat, cotton and tobacco reduction programs.

Davis estimated expenditures for rental and benefits on existing programs during 1933, 1934 and 1935 would total $847,176,000, with probable collections placed at $872,592,800.

Just A Year Ago Today...

William G. Nash is conservator of the National Ulster County Bank and Trust Company of Kingston.

Survey indicated that more than 15,000 of approximately 19,000 banking institutions in the country are now open although some are still restricted.

Three prisoners escaped from the Wallkill Prison.

A report comes from Bilbao, Spain, that Miguel Sagarrá's cover gave rich milk. Bank robbers, fleeing with $2,381 pounds from a locked bank, concealed their money in the bay in Sewer Sagarrá's stable. The cows ate all but 10,155 pesetas.

Police Arrest Two Men In Raid On John Street Saturday

Albert J. Partian and Eugene Marshall Arrested at 39 John Street on Warrants Lodged on Information Sworn to by William H. Reynolds—Private Investigator Evidently Has Completed His Work in City.

Saturday afternoon Chief of Police J. Anan Wood, accompanied by Sergeant Charles Phibney and Officers Keresman and Cramer led a raid at 39 John street, arresting Albert J. Partian, 29, of 92 Grand street and Eugene Marshall, 25, of 185 Elmendorf street, and took the names of about 25 men found on the premises. The warrants sworn out by the chief of police were based on information furnished by William H. Reynolds.

It is understood that Mr. Reynolds is a private investigator who was brought to Kingston by the district attorney and the police department to investigate complaints regarding gambling in this city. It is evident that Mr. Reynolds had now completed his work, and although the police department would not make a statement at this time, it is not known whether any further raids will be staged.

Mr. Partian is accused of making a book on the races and accepting a bet from Mr. Reynolds, while Mr. Marshall is charged with having a slot machine and punch boards in his possession at 39 John street.

Both Partian and Marshall when arraigned in police court today entered pleas of not guilty and the hearings were adjourned to Wednesday morning in police court.

Traffic Cases Here

John Greenfield of Accord was arrested Sunday morning for driving a Ford truck carrying license plates issued for another car. He was fined $3.

Frederick R. Swibold of 137 Emerson street, arrested for driving a car with 1933 Illinois plates, was fined $5.

Saturday a Ford truck driven by Kenneth Hodges of Poughkeepsie and a Plymouth sedan driven by Allen S. Kelsey of East Meredith collided at Broadway and O'Reilly street. Thomas Kane of Poughkeepsie, riding in the Plymouth, received an injured arm. Kelsey was arrested on a charge of having no certificate of registration. Later in police court he produced the certificate and sentence was suspended.

State CWA Strikers Are Still Holding Out

Canandaigua, N. Y., March 26 (AP)—Ontario county's CWA appeared as far from settlement as ever today. Strikers planned to confer this afternoon at Geneva with the county CWA authorities. They said these men told them they had no authority to raise wages, as the workers demanded, and that the state authorities told a committee of strikers this was entirely in the hands of the county CWA heads.

Strikers said they were determined to hold out for the 50 cents an hour and the 29 hour week for which they struck.

Genesee County

Batavia, N. Y., March 26 (AP)—The last of Genesee county's CWA strikers went back to work today after they were promised enough work this week, the last of the CWA program, to give them $19.26 in their final pay checks.

Unless state CWA headquarters orders they be paid 50 cents an hour, they will receive 45 cents, which means they must be given 45 hours of work, instead of the 24 hours they were working before the strike. They struck for 50 cents an hour and a thirty hour week.

Some of the strikers had returned to work Saturday.

War Vessel Will Be Off Kingston From June 21 to 28 For Inspection By Residents of This City and Vicinity

Mayor C. J. Heiselman on February 1 of this year wrote the Secretary of the Navy, asking that a war vessel be assigned to Kingston this summer so that the residents of Kingston and vicinity could visit the ship and become better acquainted with the U. S. Navy ships.

This morning Mayor Heiselman received a communication from Rear Admiral C. P. Snyder, chief of staff of the U. S. Fleet, that the Destroyer Talbot had been assigned to Kingston and would be here from June 24 to 28.

Ambulance Calls Here

Saturday the ambulance removed Janet Noble from the Kingston Hospital to 27 O'Neil street, and this morning removed Mrs. Caroline Beck from 255 Hasbrouck avenue to the Kingston Hospital.

To Probe Dr. Wirt's Charges of Overthrowing The Government

Resolution For Congressional Investigation of Statements Made by Indiana Educator is Introduced—It Appears Likely The Investigation, Which Will Be Made by a Select House Committee, Will Be Ordered.

Washington, March 26 (AP)—A resolution for a congressional investigation of statements by Dr. William A. Wirt, Gary, Indiana, educator, that members of the Roosevelt "brain trust" said they were attempting to overthrow the present government, was introduced today by Representative Bulwinkle (D-N.C.).

It appeared likely the investigation—to be made by a select house committee—would be ordered.

Speaker Rainey referred the resolution to the house rules committee and Bulwinkle said he would ask for early hearings with a view of settling house action.

"The inquiry would be conducted by five members to be appointed by the speaker."

The committee would be directed "to conduct a thorough investigation of the truth or falsity of the statements alleged to have been made" by Wirt.

The resolution related the statements were contained in a letter read to the House Interstate commerce committee by William H. Rand, Jr., head of the committee for the nation.

"It was alleged among other things," the resolution continued, "that certain employees of the United States or other individuals were attempting or would attempt to prolong suffering, destitution and misery among the people of the United States; that they were attempting or would attempt to thwart the program of national recovery in the United States; that they were attempting or would attempt to overthrow the social order that the United States, and that such employees or other individuals were attempting to influence the President of the United States to take action contrary to the general welfare and his constitutional duty."

The resolution also would authorize the committee to conduct the investigation "for the purpose of determining whether in the case of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce or in the case of any other committee of the House, any individuals, under the guise of distinguished purposes, or in purporting to express the legislative policies of the administration or of the executive agencies of the government, or with the prestige of close personal, official or unofficial relations with the executive agencies and officials of the government, have in any manner advised or influenced, or attempted to advise or influence, the preparation and enactment of any legislation with the object of prolonging economic depression, thwarting the program of national recovery, or overthrowing the social order of the government of the United States."

The committee would be directed to report to the house during the present session the results of its investigation, together with such recommendations it deems advisable. It would be given power to issue subpoenas to compel the attendance of witnesses.

Bulwinkle said Speaker Rainey and Representative Byrnes, the Democratic leader, had expressed approval of his move for the investigation.

"I may ask unanimous consent late today for the house to approve so we can get action right away," Bulwinkle said.

Destroyer Talbot Is Assigned to Kingston

Man Who Stabbed Guard to Death on Way to Hospital at Clinton Prison and Wounded 2 Others Faces prospect of Speedy Arraignment.

Dannmora, N. Y., March 26 (AP)—A speedy arraignment on a charge of first degree murder was in prospect today for Vincent Amerigo, 29, New York city Clinton prison convict, who yesterday stabbed to death the guard taking him to the prison hospital and wounded two others before being subdued.

Daniel J. Nickerson, 45, of Montour Falls, is the dead guard.

Fred Beckett, 22, of Ellensburg Depot, and Louis C. Hamilton, 22, of Port Byron, rushed to Nickerson's aid.

Amerigo plunged his three inch jack knife in the right side of Beckett's abdomen and in Hamilton's chest. They are expected to recover.

After an investigation by Warden Thomas G. Murphy and District Attorney Andrew W. Ryan of Clinton county, the latter said Amerigo would be arraigned tomorrow or Wednesday. Ryan also said he would seek an indictment from the April grand jury.

The investigation did not disclose where Amerigo purchased the knife. He was known to have sympathy for all guards, especially Nickerson, who had charge of the cell block where he was confined.

Science Hunting 'Airplane' Meteor That Dazzled Hundreds Before Fall

Science is engaged in a wide hunt for fragments of a triple meteor which flashed across six states recently. The map shows the approximate path of the meteor, which, to some onlookers, appeared like three balls of fire.

By RICHARD COWELL

Denver (AP)—A "triple meteor" that knifed through clear winter skies at several miles a second speed in a "battle plane" formation is the object of a scientific "treasure hunt" in the west.

First visible near the Canadian border in Montana, the meteor—three flaming balls of fire—dazzled hundreds of spectators along its course on the night of February 12. Seen either as one, two or three masses of streaking red, the meteor was observed at many points in Wyoming, Colorado, Utah, Idaho, Kansas, Iowa, South Dakota and Nebraska.

Search in Nebraska.

Dr. Harvey Nininger, curator of meteorites at the Colorado museum of natural history here, believes that fragments from the meteor can be found in Nebraska, where he thinks the sky phenomenon crashed to earth. He has instituted a search for the meteorites.

"This meteor may have a relation to the most remarkable meteoric procession ever recorded in America," Dr. Nininger said. He referred, he said, to the fireballs that were seen from Canada, across the United States, and as far as the Bermudas on a night in February, in 1912. "From the meteorites, or fragments, maybe we can tell if it was an iron type," he continued. "They are the most rare. There may be a relationship between the two phenomena since they occurred at about the same time and on almost the same day of February."

First Hand Reports.

On a 1,500 mile tour to get first-hand information about the meteor, Dr. Nininger said he got reports from scores who had seen it.

"Nearly all thought it had passed directly over them," he said. "But that illusion came from the fact the meteor was at a height of 15 to 40 miles."

"It was an unusual meteor because it was visible over such a wide area and because of the fact it traveled in three segments, something after the fashion of airplanes in a battle maneuver."

"While most observers believed they had seen it as long as five minutes, actually it was not visible for more than 30 seconds. Robert Niedrach of Denver and a Bridgeport, Neb., woman timed it and said they saw it 50 seconds."

"Like Lighted Planes"

Dr. Nininger said the blazing bodies in the heavens impressed most persons who observed them as "just like airplanes all lighted up."

He said one Nebraskan imagined he was seeing a dirigible with a light on either end.

Only two persons, Dr. Nininger said, reported to him that they heard the meteor as it zoomed overhead. They were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rose of Burwell, Neb.

"Most meteors travel much faster than this one," the scientist said. "I believe the fireballs descended somewhere in eastern Nebraska, but there were more showers seen in northwestern Nebraska, and for that reason I hope to find meteorites in that region."

Guides For Searchers.

Searchers, he went on, can use these guides to determine when they have located a specimen from the heavenly bodies:

The meteorites will be heavier than ordinary rocks, dark in color and may vary in size from a walnut to a boulder.

They may be of any color outside, but inside, when ground on an emery wheel, they will show particles of nickel-steel, or, if the meteor was an iron type, the inside will be solid iron.

To aid in his research, Dr. Nininger has asked that any fragments found along the meteor's path be sent to him for observation.

Wallkill Officer Fordham Speaker

Parole Officer Alfred R. Loos of Wallkill prison, addressed the Senior Class of Fordham University this morning regarding the opportunities in social work for college graduates. Mr. Loos, a graduate of Fordham University and its school of social service, outlined the rapid development of public and social welfare programs during the past four years of the depression, and explained how these programs created an increasing demand for experienced social workers to administer them.

College graduates with social service education are particularly desired to fill positions in these fields, Mr. Loos declared, and attractive opportunities are open to them. With the medical and legal professions already overcrowded, social work offers another field of endeavor to the prospective graduate. He urged those seniors who felt that this type of work appealed to them to secure the specialized education and training at one of the professional schools of social work and qualify themselves for entering this work which is gradually acquiring the status of a profession.

Clintondale Grange Lauds Loughran

Grange Asks Supervisors to Revoke Highway Superintendent's Acting Efficient Mark to County.

Little has been heard during the past few weeks from the Democratic supervisors as to what has happened in the matter of seeking the dismissal of County Superintendent of Highways James F. Loughran. The Democrats voted to demand his resignation, that fact was communicated to Mr. Loughran but he did not resign. It was stated that charges would be brought in the event he did not resign but so far as is known no charges have been filed. If charges are filed a hearing will be had before the board of supervisors, which now stands Democratic by one vote. Should a vote be taken on his dismissal in all probabilities there will be a party vote, a vote of 17 to 16 for his dismissal. Then the charges will be reviewed by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court and that court will determine whether the charges are sufficient to warrant his dismissal. Meanwhile complaints have come in from various sources telling of the efficiency of Mr. Loughran, one of the more recent being one from the Democratic highway division complaining Mr. Loughran on his efficient snow removal and placing Ulster county in a class as being one of the best, if not the best, county in the state so far as snow removal is concerned.

At a meeting of Clintondale Grange, No. 957, last week a resolution was adopted commending Mr. Loughran for his work in the county and requesting the Board of Supervisors to retain him on the job. The resolution adopted follows:

To The Board of Supervisors of Ulster county Gentlemen:

At a meeting of the Clintondale Grange, No. 957, held at Grange Hall, at Clintondale, New York, on March 19, 1934, the following resolution was duly adopted:

Whereas, Our County Superintendent of Highways, James F. Loughran, has been for a number of terms unanimously elected by the Board of Supervisors of Ulster county to that position; and

Whereas, During his entire time as such County Superintendent of Highways he has been untiring in his efforts to provide the towns and the county with good, well built roads and to keep them in good condition for travel, both summer and winter; and has succeeded to such an extent as to receive repeatedly the unqualified approval and approbation of the State Highway Department; and

Whereas, The said County Superintendent of Highways and his department have not only taken the farmers and others out of the mud, but had, also, made it possible for them to travel in safety during and after the worst of the snow storms, which is more than can be said of our adjoining counties; and

Whereas, We have learned from the public press, and rumors, that there is a movement on foot to remove said County Superintendent of Highways James F. Loughran from office; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Clintondale Grange, No. 957, of Clintondale, Ulster county, New York, does hereby heartily and unqualifiedly commend the County Superintendent of Highways, James F. Loughran, and his department, and appreciate the condition in which the roads of the county have been kept, frequently under adverse conditions; and does hereby, also, urge and request the Board of Supervisors of Ulster county to retain said James F. Loughran in office; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forthwith forwarded to the Board of Supervisors of Ulster county, at Kingston, N. Y.

FRANCIS E. GAFFNEY, Master.

NATHAN ACKHART, Secretary.

Show New Milk Cooler At Rose and Gorman

Interest in the possibilities of increased profits in dairying has been quickened by a new milk cooler that cools milk to 50 degrees without an agitator and which is on exhibition at the Rose and Gorman store here.

In the new cooler, known as the Frigidaire, flowing cold milk cooler, cans of milk are placed in a cold water bath, which is continually agitated and in which the water level remains constantly up to the top of the can, regardless of the number, the entire can is cooled and, as the water is agitated, the cooling is uniform throughout the tank.

The self-leveling feature of this new cooler attracted wide attention when it was demonstrated at the Rose and Gorman store. First the cooling tank was loaded to capacity with cans. Then one was removed. In an ordinary tank, naturally the water level would be lowered, necessitating the adding of more water to keep it around the necks of the cans. But with this new cooler, there was no change in the level. As soon as a can was removed, the water immediately leveled itself and came completely up around the necks of the cans. The same was true when more cans were removed. This is accomplished by an ingenious device which is a feature of the new cooler.

Reports from all over the United States where the new Frigidaire flowing cold milk cooler have been exhibited show that tremendous interest has been aroused among farmers and dairymen.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, March 26—Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Cleveland of Shandaken, who were guests of Mrs. Luella Marshall, have returned to their home.

The Firemen's Fife, Drum and Bugle corps will hold its weekly practice this evening.

The degree staff and officers of Hope Temple No. 30, Pythian Sisters, will meet for rehearsal at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening.

The Ever Ready Club will be entertained this evening at the home of Mrs. Donald Munn in Ulster Park. The members are requested to meet at 7:30 at the home of Mrs. H. C. Jump.

A union service will be held in the Reformed Church at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening. The speaker will be the Rev. Lucas Boere, D. D., pastor of the First Dutch Reformed Church of Kingston.

The depression card and game party to be held at the Walker tea room on South Broadway is scheduled for the evening of April 24. ## Kanfer Gets Conviction In Bankruptcy Case

Joseph Popkin, convicted by a Federal Grand Jury on the charge of concealing assets from a trustee in bankruptcy, received a suspended sentence Friday morning and was placed on two years' probation by Federal Judge Robert A. Inch. A condition of the probation, however, is that any assets which may come into the hands of Mr. Popkin must be turned over to the trustee in bankruptcy of the Foster Construction Corporation for the benefit of its creditors who lost over $200,000 through the bankruptcy.

The jury deliberated six hours and returned a verdict of guilty with a recommendation of extreme leniency. Assistant United States Attorney Morris Kanfer, who was in charge of the prosecution of the case, described the defendant in his summation as a "showing" real estate operator who built over a million dollars worth of apartment houses with other people's money, having himself invested only $5,000 in the venture and having over $200,000 unpaid to contractors and material men in April of 1929 when he grabbed the $65,400 from the corporation's treasury for himself and fled to Canada.

The creditors sustained the complete loss when all of the real estate properties which were encumbered by $1,300,000 in mortgages were foreclosed during the year 1929. The defendant proved that he had lost in the stock market during 1929 the greater portion of the money which he had taken from the corporation.

The trial of the case lasted eight days and was tried before Federal Judge Robert A. Inch of Brooklyn, who is presiding in the Southern District as a visiting judge.

Mr. Popkin was charged by an indictment filed on June 26, 1933, with having concealed the sum of $65,400 from the trustee of the Foster Construction Corporation, a real estate corporation of which the defendant was the president and owner of all the stock except one share which was held by his son.

The corporation was engaged in building apartment houses in Woodside and Elmhurst, L. I., Queens county, and according to the charge made by the government during the trial, the defendant withdrew the $65,400 from the bank account of the Foster Construction Corporation and fled to Canada in April, 1929, when it became evident that the company could no longer continue with the building operations due to its financial difficulties.

Growth of Baby Crab

A baby crab is less like an adult crab in structure than a tadpole is like a frog when it is born, and it does not achieve the familiar crab pattern until it is about a month old. From that time on for a period of six months or more it grows so rapidly that it has to discard its outgrown shell about twice a month. At the end of that time it will have become a fair sized crab.

STATE INCOME TAX

BY MARK GRAVER, Commissioner.

The first payment of the New York State Income Tax is due April 15. Because of the lowered exemption and the addition of the new 1 per cent gross tax, potential taxpayers are urged to consider carefully the new provisions before attempting to make out their returns. It is particularly essential that the gross tax be not confused with the general income tax, the initial payments of which were made March 15.

This year the exemptions for a married person living with husband or wife or the head of a family are $2,500.00 and for a single person $1,500.00. Statutory allowance for dependent persons other than husband or wife remains at $400.00. Only persons under 18 years of age or those physically or mentally incapable of self-support are considered dependents in the eyes of this law. If a dependent receives support from more than one taxpayer, exemption may be claimed only by the person who contributes the greatest amount. The status of the taxpayer changes in this respect, allowance for dependents may be prorated.

Under the state law the rates of the normal tax on 1933 incomes are 1 per cent on the first $10,000 of net income and 4 per cent on the next $10,000 and 6 per cent on all amounts in excess of $20,000. These rates apply to those filing on their calendar year and a fiscal year basis.

New York State's Income Tax Law permits installment payments. The first payment of the normal tax must be made on or before April 15th. Taxpayers may pay the full amount due if they so desire. If they do not make full payment on that date they must pay at least 50 per cent. If the installment option is utilized by the taxpayer the remaining payments must be made as follows:

One-fourth on July 15th and the remaining one-fourth on October 15th.

The emergency tax, which has been erroneously labeled "the 1 per cent gross income tax," must be paid in full and the return must be filed on or before April 15th. In a later article of this series this new levy will be more completely explained.

Return forms for both the normal and emergency tax are being mailed to all persons who paid an income tax last year. It is anticipated that there will be a large number of new taxpayers for 1933. Because they did not file returns last year they will not be on our list and consequently will not receive blanks through the mail. These persons should make application to the commission, or to any district office, for the proper forms in ample time to have their returns prepared, verified and filed on or before the due date. A taxpayer's failure to obtain a blank form will not excuse him from making a return or for delay in filing.

The main office of the New York State Income Tax Bureau, which by the way is a unit of the Department of Taxation and Finance, is located in the State Office Building at Albany.

Old 'Wagon Circuses' Use Trucks To Peddle Thrills Across Country

Small boys sneaking under the big tent... agile dancers stepping lively on the sofa-like backs of big white horses... inflated clowns cavorting in the sawdust... the "wagon" circus is coming back to small towns. In the old days those overland thrill factories rumbled from town to town in wagons, but trucks have given them a new future. Miss Yates Unrath (right) shows how the elephants are trundled about in the 1934 model traveling circus. She's only 20, but an experienced elephant trainer.

Saturday "Y. W." Annual Play Day

Saturday was the annual "play day" at the Y. W. C. A. when the girl reserves were hostesses to the Ulster County 4-H clubs and the girl scouts. The affair was attended by more than 125 girls with Miss Lillian Herdman, girl reserve secretary, in charge of the party, and Blue Triangle Club, and School Five assisted by the group advisers.

The girls assembled at 10:30 a. m. and during the morning participated in various games and divided into groups, presenting charades. At noon a picnic lunch was held and following this they enjoyed a "sing." During the afternoon, three basketball games were played, the School Four winning over School

Rosendale Township Association Drive

At a meeting held March 22 at Schorner's House the membership committee inaugurated a concerted drive for members until April 14. There are to date 116 business and family memberships, applications are in the hands of the directors and membership committeemen.

To gain the advantages of the association booklet, etc., those who haven't joined to date are urged to see their representative in their community by April 14 or attend the next general meeting on that date at the Rosendale Firemen's Hall and there join.

The benefits to the town and residents are many, including community improvement stimulation of the business and general betterment of the town and its residents.

The membership committee is composed of the following: William W. Schorner, chairman; John Fallon, Rosendale; Al Stodelman, Rosendale; Bert Ross, Rosendale; Lloyd Keator, Tilton; Ralph Dewey, Tilton; Mrs. T. Della Rovere, Cort-kill; Mrs. Eva Sags, Cortkill; William Meiers, Binnewater; Henry Lottman, Creek Locks; John J. Mooney, Maple Hill; Lester McEvoy, Bloomington; Abe Dunn, High Falls.

"DODGING TRAFFIC TAKES HEALTHY NERVES, TOO, MR. HOCKEY PLAYER."

Miss Ruth Dodd of New York City speaks with authority on the perils of a pedestrian. She says:

"Of course it takes healthy nerves to lead a championship hockey team. But let me say a word about healthy nerves in behalf of those millions of us who do our walking along city streets. People rushing madly by—trolleys clanging—traffic whistles shrilling—huge trucks bearing down on you at every crossing—it's enough to make nerves jump and quiver! I enjoy a smoke any time—and smoke steadily, too. My cigarette? Camels. They're milder, taste marvelously—and don't interfere with healthy nerves."

Captain "Bill" Cook of the New York Rangers, 1933 Champion Hockey Team, says:

"A hockey player can't afford to have 'nerves.' The way I guard my nerves and yet smoke all I want is to smoke only Camels. They have a taste that sure hits the spot. I smoke a lot and I find that Camels never get on my nerves or tire my taste."

How Are YOUR Nerves?

Few are those today who have not been face to face with "jangled nerves." You know the signs—tenseness, irritability. Fussy little habits like key-rattling... pencil-tapping. Check up now on your habits. Eating. Sleeping. Your work and play. And get a fresh slant on smoking by starting on Camels.

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS than any other popular brand.

You'll find Camels rich in flavor—yet mild and delicate. Smoking will have a new zest. And each Camel renews the enjoyment...the pleasure of smoking at its best!

BACKACHES
caused by
MOTHERHOOD

These women who have borne many children, and who have often borne them in quick succession, are frequently afflicted with backaches. The cause is the strain on the back muscles, which are weakened by the weight of the child. This is a common complaint, and one that can be relieved by the use of a special plaster. The plaster is applied to the back, and it acts as a support for the muscles, relieving the strain. It is a simple, effective treatment, and it can be used by any woman who suffers from backaches. The plaster is made of a special material, and it is applied in a way that allows the muscles to rest. It is a great relief, and it can be used for as long as it is needed. ## Windblown Feathers Make Fine Boas

Copyright, 1934, by Fairchild.

Coated With Silk

Silk is inching in on separate fashion interest in coats, and with coats, not in a big way, but in a way this movement comes the use of that is significant. It's a fact that silks for these wide sleeves. Some in the imports coat styles seem to be interesting models show taffeta have recovered from the barrenness sleeves and neckline yoke introduced that has afflicted them for these in a woolen coat, while satin forms many a year, especially in the spring, sleeves likewise on the dolman plan, Dolman sleeves contribute largely that suggest a kimono-cut coasts to this movement to invest more worn over a black silk crepe coat.

The Coat for Now

New York—Women seem more and more partial to the coat with a dual purpose. One that is a part of a suit and a separate coat too. Nor is it as difficult as one might think to find a coat adaptable enough to serve in both of these capacities. It's usually a garment that shows the skirt anywhere from six inches to twice that, and it is often, though not always, one of the raglan, sweater or men's overcoat types.

It has come to pass that ensembles are more distantly related than they were when they first burst upon a delighted world. Now almost any directly connected dress and coat or suit and coat is known as an ensemble. This simplifies matters considerably.

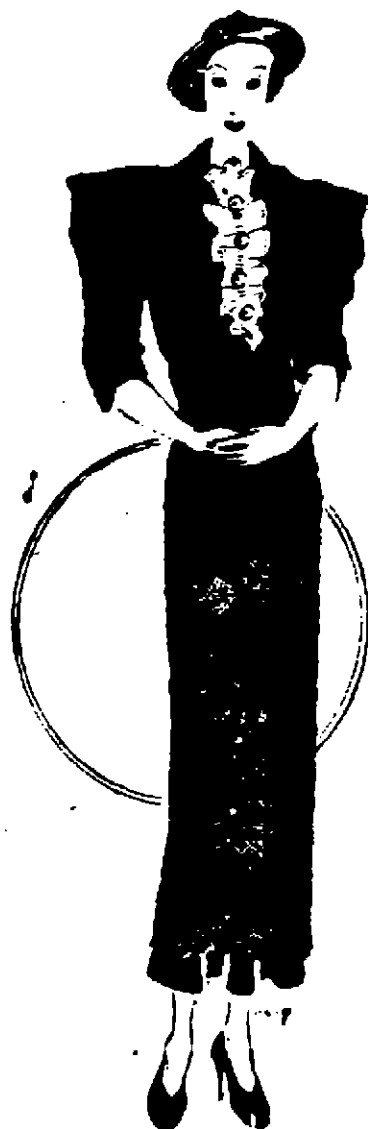

The coat sketched today has one feature at least that dates it spring 1934, and that is its short sleeves. Bracelet length sleeves are distinctly a '34 preference. For dresses and blouses the idea is not extreme, but for coats, well that's something else again. Unless a woman is in the habit of buying a new coat yearly, or can have several, it seems to me that a full-length sleeve is the better buy. As a matter of fact, there are coats without sleeves at all, but curiously enough, these are not as extreme as those with the bracelet sleeves, for the sleeveless coat has a cape, pleated or plain, which does excellent service as a sleeve. Black, navy or novelty tweed mixtures are the popular choice for coats, in wool or silk or a combination of the two.

DID YOU KNOW THAT

The combination of woolen dress with wollen coat for spring is endorsed by Molyneux. A costume may, for instance, mate a chamamois, yellow woolen coat with a black wool crepe dress.

Novelty alpaca featured in a skirt and jacket in a heavy relief stripe which suggests braid. In spite of the stiffness of the fabric, the costume is designed with full sleeves and a butterfly bow at the throat.

A SHORT SLEEVED COAT

Copyright, 1934, by Fairchild.

To go over a navy taffeta dress with a frilly white lawn jacket is a navy coat from Lanvin. The ample cut of this coat is emphasized by a trellis work of taffeta on the body of a light soft woolen. Sleeves just covering the elbow are as smart for coats as for dresses in Paris this spring.

Pointers on Poise

The shifting of weight from one foot to another is important in rising gracefully from a sitting position.

IV. Sitting

By LAURA TOWNSEND DAVIES.

Do you help yourself out of a chair by placing your hands on the arms and fairly lifting yourself out? Don't do it. That is the way an actress would play the role of an old, feeble woman. Your feet should do the work for you.

To begin with, while sitting, keep your knees together, or one slightly in front of the other. This is in keeping with your posture when you stand; then your feet are together, not a-straddle. If you will sit in front of a mirror and look at yourself, with your knees carefully "sprawled" and then placed together, you will see the difference.

The same principle applies to your feet whether you are sitting or standing—one in front of the other. Only, of course, do not leave any weight on them when sitting. You probably recall that saying, "Sit down and take a load off your feet." Pressure on the feet while sitting only serves to give your body a tense feeling, and that is how it appears to observers.

Rise from a sitting position by moving slightly forward from the waist. Get most of your weight on the forward foot and use the back foot as a lever in getting up. Then shift your weight entirely to the front foot. It's a shift of weight again, the same as in turning. Can you do it the first time you try?

Next—Knees and Toes.

COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS

ELECT OFFICERS FOR 1934

Before one of the largest crowds to attend a meeting of the United Commercial Travelers, Louis J.

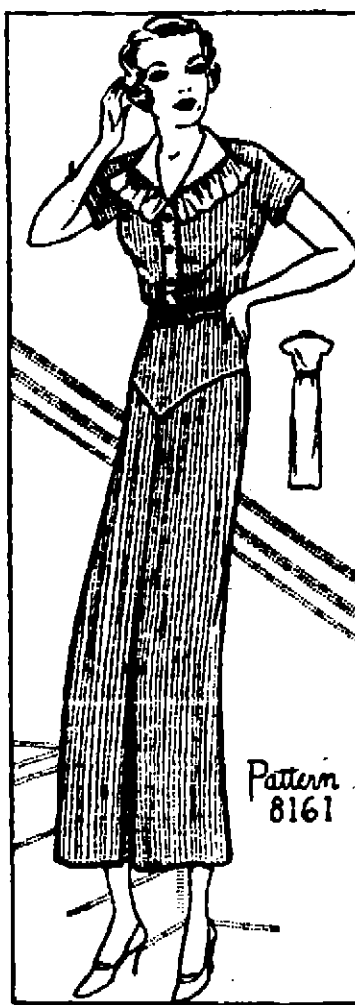

Smith was unanimously elected senior counselor for the coming year. The officers to serve under him for the coming year are as follows: R. Southwick, junior counselor; H. L. Snyder, past senior counselor; R. Avery, conductor; R. L. Snyder, sage; A. Mackey, sentinel; W. C. Dutton, secretary and treasurer; and E. Reynolds, chaplain. C. Abbott and F. Hunt were elected to the executive committee for two years. Edward Morris, past grand counselor of the state of New York, acted as installing officer with R. Coleman as marshal. The inspectors of the election were J. Grubbs, R. Coles and F. Hunt.

OUR DAILY PATTERN

Seersucker for Morning

$161. A house dress on sporting lines is a decided addition to the wardrobe of any woman who is small, medium or moderately large in size. The soft collar with frill, relieves the severity of the tailored lines of the dress and the tailored lines give a trim, neat appearance.

Striped batiste, linen or seersucker is indicated in the picture but any other material may be used with equal success, such as gingham, percale or lawn, and the collar and front plait may be done in white or solid color in contrast.

Designed in 6 sizes, 14, 16, 18, 20 (with corresponding bust measure, 32, 34, 36, 38) and 40 and 42. Size 18 requires 3 1/2 yards of material 35 inches wide, with 1/2 yard of contrasting.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

SUNNY SAYINGS

It is far better to be somewhat than a bit of home.

Why a woman's hair is not so golden as it is plaited.

When a tail goes in "twist" that's the long and short of it.

The line with a man line, the most others they appreciate it.

MENUS OF THE DAY

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE

A Substantial Sandwich

A popular sandwich and one quite filling is made by spreading rye bread with butter mixed with a little mustard, adding a slice of cold boiled or baked ham, then covering with a slice of Swiss cheese and spreading that with chili sauce. The top layer of buttered rye bread is added and the sandwich served immediately.

Chicken Roll
(Left Over Can Be Used)
1 1/2 cups flour 4 tablespoons fat
2 teaspoons baking powder 1 egg
1/4 teaspoon salt 1/2 cup milk
Mix flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in fat and add egg. Mixing with knife, slowly add milk. The exact amount can not always be determined so add it carefully. When a soft dough forms, pat it out until 1/4 inch thick. Spread with chicken mixture.

Chicken Mixture
1 cup diced cooked chicken 2 tablespoons chicken stock or gravy
1 egg 1/4 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons chopped celery 1 egg yolk
1 tablespoon chopped parsley 1 tablespoon milk
Mix chicken, egg, celery, parsley, stock and salt. Spread on soft dough. Quickly roll up like a jelly roll. Spread top with yolk which has been mixed with milk. Bake in shallow pan 20 minutes in moderate oven. Serve warm, cut in slices.

Chilled Fruit Compote
1 cup diced pineapple 1/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup sliced oranges 2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/4 cup sliced bananas 1/4 cup coconut
Mix fruits, sugar and juice. Chill. Arrange portions in glass cups, sprinkle with coconut and serve immediately.

WAYS TO USE MEAT

Here is a delicious and unusual recipe everyone is certain to like:

YORKSHIRE PUDDING WITH BACON

1/4 lb. bacon
1/4 cup flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
2 eggs
2 cups milk

Fry bacon, remove when crisp, dry on brown paper. Mix dry ingredients, add well beaten eggs and milk, mix well. Fold in bacon which has been cut in small pieces. Heat butter, drop mixture, pour in mixture and bake in moderate oven until set.

Man Who Made Millions in U. S. Oil and Bankrupted $25,000 Oklahoma Bail Said to Save Taxes Life in Shanghai—Reported Possession.

Shanghai, March 26 (AP)—The death of C. C. Julian, who made millions in oil and died in poverty, was coldly and officially recorded in a Shanghai public mortuary today.

C. C. Vandever, an American who knew Julian in California a quarter of a century ago, identified the body.

It was said there would be no official opinion as to the cause of death until a formal inquest Thursday.

Physicians who worked over Julian after he had been found in an Astor House Hotel room yesterday by the young woman who was his dinner companion said that without doubt Julian took his own life.

However, some of Julian's close associates here insisted they believed he killed himself unintentionally.

Vandever, who lived in California when Julian was getting his start in the oil business in which he became a powerful figure in Oklahoma, now is the local representative for an American "Sherwin-Williams" paint company.

Vandever said today he had helped Julian financially since the latter's arrival in Shanghai a year ago in default of $25,000 bail in Oklahoma where he was charged with fraud in connection with his financial operations.

"During my California days I invested in Julian's undertakings and made money," Vandever said.

"Since Julian came to Shanghai I returned the favor."

Julian's midnight dinner companion at the fashionable hotel, Leonora Levy, his secretary, was believed recovering today from the same symptoms that physicians said killed Julian.

Julian, she regained consciousness yesterday afternoon long enough to tell nurses:

"Julian said he would do it. I did not believe him, but he did it. . . . He was a brave man."

Miss Lyle found Julian in his hotel room, dying, when she became alarmed at his prolonged absence after excusing himself from their table. After bursting into Julian's room, the woman called hotel officials. Julian died in a hospital at six o'clock Sunday morning. Miss Lyle accompanied Julian to the hospital and remained outside his room until he died. Then she returned to the hotel. Later she was found in a critical condition from the effects of the poison which killed Julian.

As Julian now has been officially identified, it is possible for friends to go ahead with funeral plans. The funeral is expected to be held Tuesday or Wednesday.

It seemed likely that this man who once was a multimillionaire and who even at the time of his death claimed to own property in California and Oklahoma worth millions, would go to a charity grave.

To Explain Hog Allotment Payments

A series of three special meetings have been arranged by the Ulster County Farm Bureau to explain the federal plan for hog reduction payments. All brood sow owners are eligible to receive these payments, providing they contract with the A.A.A. to reduce production at least 25 per cent.

The meetings will be held as follows: Wednesday afternoon, March 28, at 2 o'clock in the Odd Fellows Hall, Olive Bridge. Thursday afternoon, March 29, at 1:30 at the County Court House, Kingston. Friday afternoon, March 30, at 1:30 in the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall, Modena.

According to Albert Kurdt, manager of the Farm Bureau, it is necessary for all those who wish to qualify for the payments to attend one of the above meetings. The federal government will pay between three and five dollars to each producer for each pig raised up to three-fourths of the average number raised in 1932 and 1933. This is in the form of a benefit payment for cooperating in the campaign to reduce production.

STATE OF NEW YORK, SUPREME COURT OF THE JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT.
IN SENATE.
MARK Plaintiff, against CHARLES FORMENTON and WILLIAM CLARE, Defendants.

On the Petition and Answer, and the Verdict and Judgment of a Judgment of Foreclosure and Sale duly made herein on the 24th day of March 1924 in the above entitled action and decreed in Ulster County Court, the said Charles Formenton, March 1924 he, the undersigned Referee in said Judgment named, will sell at public auction at the Court House in the County of Ulster, in the City of Kingston, Ulster County, New York, on the 14th day of May 1924 at twelve o'clock, Noon of that day, the premises hereinafter described, to-wit: A lot and therein described as follows:

ALL THAT CERTAIN PIECE OR PARCELS OF LAND, situate, lying and contained within the County of Ulster, in the Town of Ulster in the County of Ulster and State of New York bounded and described as follows: A certain lot on the southerly side of a public highway leading from the road called the Saugerties Road past the residence of Andrew Brink to the said stone pond, at and near the place formerly occupied by Henry Whitaker; decanted, On the southerly side by the Saugerties Road aforesaid, of the Village of Kingston to the Village of Saugerties; on the southwardly side by lands formerly of William J. Brink, deceased, on the westerly side by the lot of the Village of Kingston or southwesterly side by lands formerly of William J. Brink, deceased, and now owned by the said Henry Whitaker, and the same are estimated to contain three acres more or less.

Being the same premises conveyed by Deed of Charles J. Formenton to Charles Mark by Deed dated Dec. 1, 1912 and recorded in Ulster County Clerk's Office in book of deeds No. 247 page 377 Dec. 15, 1912.

And the Referee in said Judgment ordered that there be a place of land, containing about 65/100 of an acre, bounded and described as follows:

A certain lot on the southerly side of the Public Highway leading to the railroad station, said point being the northeasterly corner of the property of the said Henry Whitaker, and now in possession of Joel Brink, thereon running along the easterly bounds of the said Henry Whitaker's property for a distance of 111 feet, thence on a course of south 62 degrees 25 minutes west for a distance of 211.59 feet, thence on a course of south 62 degrees 25 minutes west for a distance of 160.54 feet to the southerly side of the aforesaid public Highway leading to the railroad station, the said road on a course of south 51 degrees 51 minutes west for a distance of 242.96 feet to the point or corner.

son of the United States but that he has served with the Canadian forces during the World War. Inquiry about Greenough Village by the detective brought forth the fact that Mombourquette was well known in the village where he and his red-haired wife had been managers of several restaurants. Mombourquette is a short, stocky, speckled man, cultured and mild-mannered. He is said to have at one time been a medical student.

Detective O'Neill's activities were rewarded when he found "Dorothy Allen," the wife at 69 Jane street, moving from her apartment. He watched her place all Thursday night and Friday morning but followed her to a small apartment at 27 Jones street, rented by Miss Modina MacDonald. Miss MacDonald is in no way connected with the burglaries, but had simply taken in "Dorothy Allen" because she felt sorry for her and pitied her destitute condition.

After questioning Mombourquette's wife, O'Neill learned that he was living at a branch Y. M. C. A. She admitted that her husband was to visit her that night. O'Neill decided to wait so with the two women he sat down to await the visit of the man he wanted. After a time all began to get restless and a game of rummy was proposed, and for hours the trio sat and played cards. At midnight Friday evening Mombourquette walked in and inquired what the strange man was and O'Neill made his identity known and placed Mombourquette under arrest. It is said that he made a statement as to his connection with the Montclair job, and also of his activities in poor stock. He accompanied the police and State Troopers to stores where the books had been disposed of and considerable of the loot was recovered through his guidance, police say.

The story of the Montclair attempted robbery is a most unusual one. On Wednesday Mombourquette and Hutchins drove up to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Gaede at 16 Ramsey Road, Montclair, in a rented car. Mrs. Gaede is a sister of Mombourquette. Mrs. Gaede is a former deputy attorney general of the state of New Jersey and at present a member of one of the largest law firms of the state. At the time Mr. and Mrs. Gaede were away on a 15 day cruise but the maid, Mildred Comeau, was at home. Also Mrs. Gaede's sister was there but that fact was unknown to her brother, Charles Mombourquette. His sister, Mrs. Cora McGrath, wife of a prominent Nova Scotia physician, was upstairs.

Posed as Furnace Man

man while Nembourquette remained outside in the car. The maid followed Hutchins to the basement. There according to the police Hutchins struck the maid over the head.

scap slightly, and bound her. However, Mrs. McGrath, whose presence was not known, heard the maid's screams and notified the police. The police arrived just as Hutchings was leaving and he was arrested. Mombourquette fled leaving the car. The police was through Hutchings that the police learned the other man's identity and on that information the local Troopers and police were called out to watch Woodstock.

Saturday Mombourquette in company with the Montclair detectives Detectives McFarland and O'Neill of the New York city police and Sergeant Hopkins, Trooper Reilly and Deputy Sheriff Vredenburg, a tour of the second hand book stores was made and considerable of the stuff was returned. Mombourquette was then turned over to Sergeant Hopkins, Trooper Reilly and Deputy Sheriff Vredenburg and brought to Kilgator where he was lodged in jail on a burglary charge.

Today he was expected to give local authorities a statement and a check-up is being made on the recovered loot so that the rest may be checked up and recovered. So far it appears that the Whitney estate

The Hoffman estate. Madame Souidkane's place and Clementine Randolph's places are the only ones broken into at Woodstock but a check will be made to determine whether there are others.

At present it will be impossible to check up as to just what is missing as Murray Hoffman is in Italy as is Madame Souidkane. Clementine Randolph and Mrs. Joseph Whitney are in New Haven.

The Woodstock burglaries apparently cover a period of time from January up until about a week ago today when the last apparently burglary was made. Nombourquette was caretaker on the Whitney estate and had admittance to it.

Another unusual thing in connection with the case is that fact that Nombourquette was apparently so hard up for cash that after the Montclair job he phoned his wife in New York for money. Not having the money she borrowed $5 from Hutchins's mother.

Some of the loot recovered includes a first edition of Gibbons' "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire"; a valuable set of Johnson's works; first edition of DeMaupassant; and Fielding; a rare set called "The Tour of Dr. Syrtan" many Italian classics; some Persian Persian rugs; a quantity of bronzes; hand painted small iron set; two handsome vases and small art objects and a quantity of antiques.

MONTGOMERY WARD

Washington Daybook

HERBERT PLUMMER
WASHINGTON—A few days ago President Roosevelt received the Washington newspaper correspondence in what is believed to be the most confidential manner since the establishment of the White House press corps. The conference lasted about five minutes. Usually these occasions are considerably longer—at times 20 minutes or more.

ALTHOUGH there was a dearth of news of national importance developed at this particular conference, one very interesting and revealing sidelight on Mr. Roosevelt, a well-cropped up.

It was contained in his more or less casual statement that he had completed a book on his program which will be published soon.

As an afterthought the President added that he had stayed up until midnight of the night before to complete the job.

Found Writing Time
THIS incident serves once more to illustrate the tremendous capacity for work and sustained effort of the present occupant of the White House. It never fails to amaze those with whom he comes in contact.

Mr. Roosevelt's first year in the presidency was an ordeal such as few men are called upon to undergo. Yet he has found time during one of the most exacting and exacting years ever experienced by a President to write a book.

It is true, of course, as he says, that the book is composed principally of compilations, presumably of his public addresses and of data affirming his statements. The fact remains, however, that he found the time to compile.

Other Presidents Waited
USUALLY, Presidents wait until they leave the White House to attempt things like book-writing. Mr. Coolidge did.

Those who ought to know say that Mr. Roosevelt's book will be more than a compilation. Much new material, describing more in detail his basic ideas of the "new deal," is expected to be found in it.

Where he finds the time, the energy and the will for such extraordinary endeavors is much of a mystery to everyone but FDR himself.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROSS COONS
HOLLYWOOD—In this article I take:

An idle sound stage the other day reverberated with organ music. At the huge instrument, ordinarily used for recording purposes, sat a young man in work clothes, faded trousers and grimy blue shirt open at the collar. He played with the sure touch of an experienced organist. Melody flooded the otherwise deserted stage, echoed into the studio streets. The man played on, oblivious to the occasional curious who poked heads inside the door to marvel at the incongruous picture he made.

But it demanded explanation. He gave it matter-of-factly.

"Used to play in picture houses," he said. "Talking pictures cannot do all. Yeah, I work here. Drive a truck. What's that? Oh, you've got to eat. They let me come in here once in a while and practice. Say—what time is it? I've got to go now."

The truck was waiting outside. He stepped in and drove away....

Horror Supremacy
"The Black Cat" offers an off-screen battle of "monsters." Boris Karloff and Bela Lugosi have equally prominent roles. Lugosi was "Dracula" and was scheduled for "Frankenstein" but Karloff played the part and became a star. It looks as a contest—which will out-spook the other?

Some scene-stealing campaigns are in order too on the set where Lee Tracy and Roger Pryor are paired in a film. In New York the two were often called to try out for the same fast-talking stage roles. Tracy played in "The Front Page" and Pryor in "Blessed Event," while Pryor headed the Chicago company of the former play and Tracy made his first film hit in "Blessed Event."

Frequent visitor to the set is Isabel Jewell, Tracy's fiancée, who was helped into her first big Broadway role by Pryor.

Odd Assignments
Odd assignment drawn by sound-effects men working on serial thrillers: creating sounds like none heard before for devices that don't really exist—except in the inventive minds of serial-makers. Noise of a "secret death ray," for instance.

Helen Mack wants to be a director during her second "awkward age," that period in every actress' life when she's too old for romantic leads and not old enough for matronly roles. Directing would bridge the span perfectly, argues Helen.

Kingston Cadet on Current Honor Roll

Hollywood, Florida, March 21.—According to announcements published today, Cadet Amos Newcombe, son of A. R. Newcombe of Kingston, N. Y., is one of twelve cadets listed on the current honor roll of Riverside Military Academy, distinguished school that returns this week from its winter home here to its permanent quarters in Gainesville, Georgia. This means that Cadet Newcombe has made a minimum general average of 95 per cent for the week that has just closed and has just received special commendation upon his good record.

At The Theatres

Today
Kingston: "Queen Christina." For lovers of the husky voiced Garbo, this pictorial account of her activities in the 17th century will be appealing, because this talkie is nothing more than one effective camera shot of the star followed after another. The whole show belongs to her, the other characters move across the screen as a background for her, and Greta Garbo contributes another interesting and romantic presentation in the role of Queen Christina, the manish ruler of the 17th century Sweden. Dressed in men's clothing, the queen puts up at an inn over night, and is asked if she will share her room with another man. She objects, but the night is stormy, the inn crowded, and she is forced to give up part of her room. The stranger is none other than an emissary from the king of Spain, come to seek the hand of Sweden's queen for his monarch. He discovers she is a woman, and they fall in love. That is the plot structure of the story, and the ending is tragic and tearful. Never was Miss Garbo photographed to better advantage, and the direction is exceptional. John Gilbert, Lewis Stone, Cora Sue Collins, Ian Keith and Reginald Owen are in the large cast.

Upheum: "The Mad Game."
Spencer Tracy, Ralph Morgan, Claire Trevor and Carroll Natch all work diligently and well in this treatise of kidnapping, racketeering and the other popular gutter arts practiced in these United States. Spencer Tracy is a beer baron, reclining in prison. His former lieutenant, responsible for Mr. Tracy's being in prison, has turned to kidnapping, and the prison authorities release Mr. Tracy on the promise that he will get the goods on his former pal. That is just what Mr. Tracy does in several reels of exciting drama. This picture tears the evils of kidnapping apart, and is a pretty potent indictment against lawlessness and crime. Well acted and well directed, this show is worth seeing. Claire Trevor supplies the love interest.

Broadway: "Eskimo." A saga of Eskimo life, filmed in the far north; a picture that took a year to complete, with Eskimo actors, Eskimo dialect, and Eskimo methods of living, all blended into an exceptional picture through the skill of W. S. Van Dyke, whose "Trader Horn," a few seasons back, gave us something new and different in cinema entertainment. It is a study in conflict, of conflict against the rigors of cold, and the fear of hunger. Into the realm of the Eskimo a new force comes, even more dreaded than the rest. It is the mounted police, bringing white men's laws for the Eskimo to obey. Some of the most awe-inspiring camera pictures ever recorded are to be found in this picture. The show is unusual, entertaining and worth seeing.

Milk and Liquor Bills Before Legislature

Action Must be Taken This Week to Prevent the Expiration of Regulations Controlling the Industries.

Albany, N. Y., March 26 (AP).—To prevent the expiration of all regulations controlling the manufacture and sale of liquor in New York state, the legislature will have to enact some sort of liquor control legislation before the end of the present week.

The temporary licenses and regulations under which the liquor traffic has been governed since the repeal of the 18th amendment will expire Saturday night.

Legislative leaders believe the only possible way to take care of the situation is to pass the Kleinfeld bill extending the present licensing system until October 1. The measure was passed by the Senate last Thursday but was blocked in the Assembly when Assemblyman William Brietenbach, Brooklyn Democrat, objected to immediate advancement.

It is believed that this measure will be reported favorably by the judiciary committee tonight, and passed before the end of the week.

Both Democratic and Republican leaders have made a "gentlemen's agreement" with Governor Lehman to extend the present plan until October 1, but to make every effort to get a permanent liquor control system adopted before the session ends. The leaders are agreed that, in the event no permanent plan has been adopted by April 20, they will extend the life of the control board until February 1. This understanding was insisted upon by Governor Lehman to make sure that no special session would be required.

A public hearing will be held on all liquor control legislation Wednesday.

The legislature also must act this week to prevent expiration of the state's milk control law. A hearing has been held on milk legislation, and the Senate and Assembly committees on agriculture have under consideration a plan to create a permanent milk control division in the state department of agriculture and markets and to extend the price-fixing powers for one year.

The committees may report favorably on this measure and ask for immediate action, or it may ask for an extension of the present law to permit further consideration of the permanent plan as requested by some dealers and producers at the hearing last Friday.

Mr. Tremper Grange Meeting.
Those who attended the Mt. Tremper Grange party and entertainment on Friday, March 22, spent a most enjoyable evening. Beside the usual card games and dances, a one-act play was presented, "Hen Peck at the Hitching Post." Those taking part were Sister Kathleen Rieley as the bride; Brother Waldo Boerker as the groom; and Brother "Sonny" Ingersoll as the parson. Sister Iola Rieley took the part of "another woman." The next Grange meeting will be April 6.

A CERTIFIED INTERVIEW WITH MISS DOLENA MacDONALD—NURSE—OF BOSTON, MASS.

"That's why I bought a Plymouth....it's got Hydraulic Brakes and a Safety-Steel Body"

IT'S SECOND NATURE for a nurse to think about safety first. So when Miss MacDonal set out to buy a new car, safety was in her mind.

And after looking at "All Three" low-priced cars... she picked Plymouth.

She feels safer with Hydraulic Brakes. For they are always equalized... they stop her more quickly, and without side-skidding.

And common sense told her a Safety-Steel Body, of steel reinforced with steel, is safer than other types.

Miss MacDonal found that Plymouth alone, in the lowest-price field, offered her both these safety features.

THINK ABOUT SAFETY when you buy your next car. And about comfort, too. Plymouth's Individual Wheel Springing plus Floating Power engine mountings give you a smoother, more comfortable ride.

Rosendale Cagers Win Another, Trouncing Stone Ridge, 33-14

Having emerged from the slumps that saw them lose their straight games in the series of the previous week, the Rosendale basketball team today won a second straight victory, trouncing Stone Ridge, 33-14.

Saturday night the Home Basketball team of Rosendale, 33-14. This victory followed on top of the 24-22 nod to the team of the recent village got over the Luckies Friday at White Eagle Hall.

Hank Krum, center of the Firemen, led them in their duel for points by making the ball for seven fields and one foul for 15 markers. Jimmy Merritt, his teammate at guard, was next with eight. The Stone Ridge scoring was well distributed, most of the points being registered on fouls. Only three fields were registered by the Poultrymen all during the contest.

Bill Scully refereed the game and had his hands full keeping track of the players who roughed it up considerably.

There are four more games left in the tournament, which means that Rosendale has a chance to win the pennant if it continues to play as it did Friday and Saturday.

The standing of the clubs:

West Park Cagers Trim Combinations

The West Park Men's Club, playing at home Saturday evening, turned in its second victory for the season over the Combination Five of Kingston. Final score of the tilt was 44-43, indicating a close fight which reached its peak in thrills during the last minutes of battling.

Featured scorers were "Beane" Balts for the Combinations with 23 to his credit, and Jim Lund for the Men's Club with 20. Steve Marone trailed Lund with 18 markers.

The other contest between the clubs earlier in the season was a close affair too, ending 31-30. Saturday's game was the last of the year for both quintets.

In the preliminary the West Park Juniors swamped the Missions of Kingston, 38-18.

Missions Win Final At Comforter Hall

The basketball season at Comforter Hall was brought to a close Saturday night with all three of the church teams winning.

In the first game the Comforter Aces swamped the highly touted Glasco Grammar School, 33-15. Near and Every did the best scoring.

The Comforter Girls settled their claim of superiority over the Z. N. P. Girls by winning 6-4. Miss Scamp led with 3.

In the main attraction the Comforter Missions ended their season by taking the "rubber" game from the Fearless Five of Glasco, 44-24. Ad Stampf again showed the way for the churchmen with 13 points.

The Missions have a record of 23 wins against 11 losses.

Jones' Loss in Masters' Tourney Will Not Keep Him Out in 1935

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor.

Augusta, Ga., March 26. (AP)—Now that it's all over and Bobby Jones, Jr., knows what it feels like to come back and take it square on his golfing chin, the explanation is quite clear why the renowned Georgian trailed an even dozen professionals in competition for the first time in his career, finishing ten strokes behind the winner, Horton Smith, in the $5,000 first annual masters' invitation tournament.

Jones not only mislaid "Calamity Jane," the putter with which he stroked his way through the greatest golf championship winning streak of all time, but he lost his putting touch along with it.

There may have been some other contributory causes to the fact that he finished no better than a tie for 13th with 294 for 72 holes in the company, incidentally, of the past and present British open champions, Walter Hagen and Denny Shute. But the outstanding fact remains he was soundly beaten because he lacked control and confidence around the greens.

Far from being discouraged Jones fully intends to make this spring tour with his old rivals an annual event. The Augusta National Tournament, he said, will be made an annual fixture, adding: "Unless I break down completely, I hope to participate every year, regardless of how I am putting or where I finish."

That's the full extent to which he intends ever to return to competition. Spiking the revival of reports that he might enter this year's national open at Merion, Pa., Jones said emphatically: "I'm through with all of that—for good. You can make it just as strong as you like that my answer is no."

Reverend in Putting.

Analysis of Jones' four rounds shows a striking reversal in putting form, even though he was inconsistent to the last. Whereas he took 36 and 38 putts for his first two rounds of 76 and 74, he used only 30 and 32 putts on his closing two rounds, on each of which he carried 10 on the greens during the first 36 holes to have wiped out the ten-stroke margin by which he trailed Horton Smith.

Smith's victory was as popular as anything could have been with the strongly partisan galleries, short of the hoped-for conquest by their idol, Jones. It was especially dramatic, for the young Missourian was the last to beat Jones in open competition. Smith won a sensational scoring battle from Jones exactly four years ago at Savannah.

The Prize.

Smith's winning 284 was worth $1,500, one of the biggest cash awards of the winter. Craig Wood of Deal, N. J., finished a stroke behind Smith and collected $800.

Tied for third place were Bill Burke of Cleveland, former open champion, and young Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y., the tournament favorite, each carding 286 and winning $550 apiece.

Others who finished in the money were: Fifth, Ed Dudley, Augusta, 288, $400; Smith, Willie MacFarlane, Tuckahoe, N. Y., 291, $300; tied for seventh, Harold MacSpaden of Kansas City, Al Espinosa of Akron, Ohio, Jimmie Hines of Timber Point, N. Y., and MacDonald Smith of Nashville, each 292 and $175; tied for eleventh, Norlie Dutra, Detroit, and Al Watrous, Birmingham, Mich., each 293 and $100.

Kind Words.

"Kind words may mean more than money," said Uncle Eben, "except when you're gittin' 'em from one of these high-power salesmen."

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD

(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

When Alan Cochrane Strange was a kid playing ball around the Philadelphia sandlots and spending his afternoons at the Phillies' ball yard in the role of cat boy for the visiting teams, his 1901 was Rogers Hornsby.

The youngster watched every move of the master batsman, studied and tried hard to adopt his style of swinging at the plate.

The big opportunity came one afternoon when Hornsby broke a bat and tossed it to one side. Young Strange pounced on it and carefully took it home to keep as a reminder of his hero.

Now a brick lad of 24, after developing rapidly in two years of play on the Pacific coast, Strange has been selected and installed by Hornsby as the new shortstop of the St. Louis Browns.

"It's like a kid's biggest dream coming true," said the young infielder. "I have always wanted most to play under Hornsby. He is teaching me a lot more about hitting now than I ever knew before."

Bob O'Farrell Foresees Success
In Reds' Big Reconstruction Job

Cincinnati Baseball Gets New Deal

Editor: Now, this is the third of a series of eight illustrated stories written by Bob O'Farrell, manager for The Associated Press, giving their views on the coming season.

By BOB O'FARRELL

Manager, Cincinnati Reds

Tampa, Fla., March 26. We have lacked a big job of reconstruction with the Reds this year. First with the idea of getting out of last place, and second with the well defined purpose of giving Cincinnati a real pennant contender for 1934.

I think we have already made progress at least to the extent of improving all the players with better spirit and more confidence, which many of them lost while the Reds were drifting aimlessly. The new ownership means a great deal to baseball in general. Before my two-year contract runs out, I hope to justify the responsibility they have given me.

We will make a real fight to gain a berth in the top of the National League this season because I know we will have more batting punch and I am also confident our pitching will show substantial improvement, even though we will have to rely mainly upon older hands.

See Real Cleanup Wallop.

The addition of fast, hard-hitting young players like Tony Piet, second base, and Adam Comorosky, outfielder, both obtained from the Pirates in the trade for Red Lucas, will help the club. Jim Bottomley, Chick Hafey and Ernie Lombardi will give us a real cleanup wallop when we need it.

I am counting on a come-back by Dazzy Vance to help such good pitchers as Larry Benton, Paul Derringer and St. Johnson. Dazzy is working hard and will start the season in better shape than he has been for years.

If he does not win more than 10 games, the number Lucas marked up last year, I will be sorely disappointed. I have at least a dozen other pitchers from whom to pick the rest of the staff. The best looking rookie prospect now is Hollingsworth, a left-hander.

We have more than 50 players in camp, among whom we expect to find some real material for 1934 and 1935. There's Beattie Fellers, the great Tennessee football player, who should make a big league outfielder as soon as he gets enough experience.

Has New Farm System.

Our new farm system will give us the chance to keep close watch on the best prospects. The entire organization has one object in view —to give Cincinnati a real hustling and winning ball club. In managing the club this year I am lucky to have the assistance of experienced men like Burd Shotton, manager of the Phillies for the last few years, Val Pileggi, the former catcher, and Bobby Wallace, who also does scouting work.

Personally, I doubt if the Giants will get enough breaks to repeat their wonderful 1933 performance, though Casey Stengel will have his club fighting all the way.

New management, new ownership and considerable new talent make the 1934 Cincinnati Reds easily the most thoroughly made-over team in the National League. Paul Derringer (left) bullworks a pitching staff for which Manager Bob O'Farrell has high hopes, while Ernie Lombardi (right) is counted on for batting punch, along with Hafey and Bottomley. Field strategy will be in the hands of (left to right, center) Coaches Burd Shotton and Val Pileggi, and Manager O'Farrell.

Lee Griesole, a southpaw pitching club, looks very promising. So does Louis Stancak, a Chicago semi-pro and one of 11 brothers who have their own ball team.

Hundredth Night
At West Point

Saturday last was a big and a gain-day at West Point, for it was "One Hundredth Night" (one-hundredth days until June) and it was observed right royally, by the presentation of
"On The Level," a musical farce in two acts.

The Freeman reporter who attended the matinee performance found the huge auditorium filled to the brim some time before the hour set for the curtain to rise, which it did exactly the click of the clock at 2:30.

The audience, numbering in the thousands was of the most colorful and interesting spectacle, with the hundreds of young people a large part of the assemblage. Cadets in the handsome and becoming West Point uniforms and the charming girls in their spring finery offered a most attractive picture.

The musical farce, "On The Level" was given by the members of the Cadet Dramatic Society Personnel, which proved to be not half as fearsome as it sounded. The exceedingly clever authors were Cadets Benjamin of Anna Hill, and Finkenaar of Webster Grove, Mo. The technical director was Cadet Shaughnessy; Cadet Revie was responsible for the scene, and the dances were in charge of Cadets Merrill, Ryder and Kemper.

The cast was as follows, with one big change. Just three days before the performance, Cadet Finkenaar, who was to have been the "leading lady," Evelyn Nesbit, became ill of pneumonia, and author and producer Benjamin had also to assume the exceedingly important role of "Evo-lyn," besides directing the great show.

Activities of Local De Molay Chapter

Attention is called to the fact that the representatives for the De Molay chapter are due in the office of the Grand Council not later than May 1. A new form has been prepared which does not make any changes in the content but simplifies the preparation of material for submission.

The representative for the De Molay award is the second highest honor in the order and is bestowed not for mere attainments in any one thing but for recognition of a fine development of the qualities and capacities which go to make up an all-around individual. At the present time according to authentic reports from the Grand Council, the Kingston Chapter ranks third in the state of New York with regard to the number of representatives. De Molays. From all indication the local chapter is resolved to maintain this high standard of achievement for several members are preparing their records for consideration. Further details and information may be secured from the members of the advisory council.

The Delta Sigma Lambda Fraternity has been granted official recognition and endorsement by the Grand Council as the De Molay College fraternity. Under this agreement each chapter of Delta Sigma Lambda not only becomes a fraternity composed exclusively of De Molays but also agrees to cooperate with all De Molay members attending the school. Due to the multiplicity of college activities it is the contention that De Molays may lose touch with the order. The result of this agreement will be a greater degree of interest in De Molay among all members at college.

The Colonial Chapter has launched a membership campaign in the nature of two competitive teams captained by Master Councilor Every and Senior Councilor Donald Clark, respectively. The competition is keen with the result that both teams are busily engaged securing new petitions for membership. Young men desirous to affiliate with the Colonial Chapter, Order of De Molay may secure a petition from any member of the chapter or the advisory council. The result of the standing of each team will be announced at a later date.

The annual De Molay spring frolic is planned for the latter part of April. Donald Clark, chairman of the dance committee, expects the dance to surpass all other De Molay social functions.

Fine County 4-H Work Largely Due to Leaders

The fine work of the 4-H Clubs of Ulster county is due largely to the work of the 45 volunteer local leaders who cooperate with the county 4-H Club agent. These men and women give their time and their efforts toward making the 4-H clubs in their communities worthwhile and successful. There is an unpaid service for which they deserve much credit.

Most 4-H clubs hold a regular meeting once or twice a month with the local leader in charge of the instruction period. Homemaking leaders attend training meetings where specialists from Cornell University demonstrate correct methods in teaching homemaking to girls. The girls in turn receive their information from their local leaders.

Agricultural clubs receive some help also from specialists and individual help from the county 4-H Club agent. The fact that most leaders enjoy working with the young people is illustrated in this remark made by one of the leaders. "If I couldn't have a 4-H Club in my own community, I should go to some other community to lead a club."

Special mention should be made of those leaders who continue as leaders for a period of years. 4-H Club work in its fifth year in Ulster county and there are 10 leaders who have been with their clubs all five years.

Following is a list of the Ulster County 4-H Club leaders with the number of years each has served as a leader. Fifth year leaders: William T. Hooley, Mrs. Hugh Ferguson, Lake Katrine; Mr. and Mrs. William Lambacher, Sawkill; Mrs. Alonzo Davis, Olive Bridge; Mrs. Harold DuBois, New Paltz; Miss Harriette A. Thomas, North Flatbush; Miss Winchester, Highland; Julius Kross, Ulster Heights; S. A. Tice, Spring Glen.

Fourth year: A. P. Kaplan, Metacomb; Mrs. Fred Bond, Milton; Miss Anna Devine, Ernest Terpening, Riffling; Samuel Barnett, St. Remy; Mr. and Mrs. Raphael Klein, Ulster Park; Alonzo Davis, Olive Bridge; Ralph Penney, Walkkill.

Third year leaders: Miss Elizabeth Jones, Churchland; Mrs. Hazel Freer, Maple Hill; Mrs. Florence Crockett, Katsbaan; Mrs. William Carter, Highland; Miss Olive T. Atkins, Mt. Zion; Fred DuBois, Jr., and Miss Anna DuBois, New Paltz; Mrs. Eugene Terwilliger, Bruynswick; Miss Mary McCabe, Walkkill; Mrs. C. E. Powell, Miss Dorothy Rieley, W. Tremper; William Lambacher, Sawkill; Franklin Kelder, Accord.

Second year leaders: Wesley Smith, Churchland; Horan Bennik, Blue Mountain; Jerry Tompkins, Churchland; Miss Phoebe Cheahire, North Flatbush; Mrs. Frank Ennis, Lake Katrine; William L. Mehrmann, Jr., Saxton; Mrs. Pearl F. Rippert, Dairyland; Harry Scarpati, Stone Ridge; Miss Julia King, lower Ulster Heights; Gustav Schroeder, Mrs. Margaret Gaynor, Woodstock; Ben Decker, Walkkill.

First year leaders: Thomas Knight, Mrs. John Dederick, Mr. Marlon, Victor Wood, Mrs. Harry W. Durling, Mrs. Alvin Pelen, South Flatbush; Frank Carlo, Mt. Tremper; J. V. Bryant and Miss Bertha S. Miller, Lomontville; Emile Crystal and Mrs. Esther DeVeaugh, Granite; Inman Wood and Mrs. Peter Hoffman, Tilton; George Ronk, Clintonville; Edwin Schwan, Mombaccus; Forrest Hasbrouck, New Paltz; Edgar Crook, Walkkill; Leslie Krom, New Paltz; Miss Dorothy Keefe, Blue Mountain; Miss Mildred Shimer, Katsbaan; Miss Katherine Fudelsen, Saugerties; Mrs. William Cruickshank, Big Indian; Mrs. Ben Scholten, Accord; Miss Victoria Vega and John Hoelan, Plattekill; George Clark, New Paltz Training; Mrs. Clarence Miller, West Camp; Cutter Emerick, West Camp; A. Zimmer, Walkkill; Mrs. Rudolph Havlin, St. Remy; Mrs. A. Meera, Union Center; Miss Elizabeth Hasbrouck, New Paltz; Mrs. Gladys Meares, Highland; Miss Rose Sykes, Highland; Miss Vivian Bullwinkle and Miss Dorothy Parلمان, New Paltz Training; Myron Boice, Lake Katrine.

4-H Girls Enjoyed Y.W.C.A. Play Day

Ten 4-H Club members and their leader were guests of the Y. W. C. A. at its annual play day on March 24. The girls enjoyed athletic events, games and stunts put on by various groups. The members of the Lake Katrine Junior 4-H Home-making Club, Mildred Benson, Nancy and Norma Boice, Geraldine Ennis, Eleanor Morhouse, Dorothy and Jane Nichols, Jane Roosa, Ellen and Veronica Schaffer and their local leader, Mrs. Frank Ennis, Lake Katrine, were invited to the play day to represent the 4-H Clubs.

Business Activity ::

February Shows Gains Except in Construction

(By The Associated Press.)

General business activity showed gains of more than seasonal proportions for February and the first part of March with one exception. It was reported by the conference of statisticians in industry of the National Industrial Conference Board.

"Building and engineering construction, alone of the basic industries, declined," the board reported. This sharp drop pulled the charted line of activity downward for the month.

More Passenger Cars, Trucks Produced.

Production of passenger cars and trucks in February for the United States and Canada was 42 per cent larger than in January and 116 per cent over a year ago. Production in the first part of March showed an extension of the previous month's gains.

Total of building contracts and awards fell sharply in February to a point 53 per cent under the December, 1933, peak. Curtailment of operations was centered largely in public construction and non-residential building.

Steel production expanded rapidly in February, and output continued to increase the first part of March. Steel operations last month were at 42.8 per cent of capacity against 34.1 per cent in January.

Electric Power Increases.

Electric power production in February rose 2.1 per cent over January and 14 per cent over a year ago. Cold weather, which curtailed building operations, fostered the power increase.

Rail shipments of all classes of commodities in February increased 6.5 per cent over January and 19 per cent over a year ago. Recent seasonal advances average 1.6 per cent.

Department store sales advanced in dollar value of turnover by 1.8 per cent from January to February to a level 16 per cent over a year ago, a movement contrary to seasonal expectations. Unit volume of turnover advanced 1.5 per cent. Compared with a year ago it was 5 per cent under, because the price level had advanced proportionately more than the dollar value of sales.

Aren't We All?

Washington—Senator McAdoo of California interrupted Senator Barkley, Kentucky, in questioning a witness before the senate banking committee.

Pardon me, go ahead," McAdoo said politely.

"No, you go ahead," Barkley replied differentially. After a little "Alphons and Gaston" act, Barkley insisted that McAdoo proceed, admitting: "I'm through sometimes, but don't know it."

Echoes of the War.

Tillsonburg, Ont.—Jack Vangeel, ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Vangeel, was seriously injured when the nose cap of an 18-pound shell, found in Flanders after the war, exploded as the boy was playing with it yesterday.

The explosion broke furniture and smashed valuable china, and wrecked a window. Portions of the camp were burned in the walls.

While touring Flanders Fields, Mr. and Mrs. Vangeel picked up the nose cap of the 18-pounder and the children had played with it in their home here for years. Jack was pounding the cap on the floor when it exploded.

Free Food For "Father".

Gloucester, N. J.—Henry Stanley, 73, tried to get one free meal and is getting ninety-one.

After eating a steak dinner with all the trimmings he is said to have told the waiter: "That's all right. Charge it to Patrolman Walter Lane. I'm his father."

When the policeman caught up to him Stanley was given thirty days more meals in the county jail.

Ball and Chain Gang Member.

Lincoln, Neb.—Fire Captain Harry McPherson has his opinion of a man who will steal a rock and ball and chain. One of the captain's delights was to show school children a ball and chain once used at the city rock pile. In his yard McPherson kept the relic, encircling a rock carved to resemble a man's head. The rock weighed about ten pounds and the ball and chain were much heavier.

About Bullies.

San Francisco—She couldn't understand it. Miss Marion Harris, 17, told police as she explained how she had tried out her father's pistol.

Miss Harris said she was very careful to aim at the wall of her room so the bullets wouldn't hurt anyone. She didn't have any idea they would go through the wall and into Mrs. Alice Harris's home next door.

So What?

Sattle—James E. Bradford, state NRA compliance director, says he has this ruling from Washington: "Advertisement: 'Beer and pretzels' is a violation."

BLUE SUNOCO
today's streamlined-acting motor fuel

Just as streamlining eliminates wind-resisting surfaces and vacuum drag, these thieves of power and speed... so the Blue Sunoco refining process eliminates those undesirable parts of petroleum which retard with acceleration, high speed and trackless power.

That's why, even though your car may not be streamlined, you can streamline its performance by using Blue Sunoco.
